

Your training content is best-in-class. Your delivery should be too.

Training companies that deliver consistent, measurable, engaging programs win enterprise contracts and keep them.

Enterprise clients are evaluating your delivery as closely as your curriculum, especially in high consequence training environments where inconsistency isn't an option. Class is a virtual classroom for Zoom and Teams that gives professional training providers the infrastructure to deliver more consistent programs, keep learners genuinely engaged, and produce the proof clients need to justify renewing.

Protect Your Contracts

When a client asks what they're getting for the investment, attendance reports alone don't tell the full story. Class captures audit-ready attendance, engagement, and learner progress—synced directly with your LMS—so the proof is there before anyone asks for it.

Deliver More

Inconsistent delivery across instructors is one of the fastest ways to lose an enterprise client's confidence. Session templates, pre-configured breakout rooms, and LMS integration mean every cohort gets a similar experience, regardless of who's running the session.

Run Leaner

Manual session setup, roster management, and post-session reporting eat hours your team could spend on facilitation and improving programs. Class automates the administrative work so your instructors spend less time rebuilding sessions from scratch.
